Business and Professional Women's Foundation Career Advancement Scholarship Program

A special task force has been established to evaluate the scope of what could be offered, as well as potential partners and processes for its scholarship program. Our goal is to re-instate scholarships for career advancing learning opportunities. This could include scholarships for degree-granting education programs, non-degree granting education or seminars, mentoring programs, grants for research--or other learning opportunities.

Women seeking scholarships should contact their Legacy Partners directly to see if they are participating in the program and to obtain information about timing, rules and applications.

Creative Capital Foundation

Creative Capital acts as a catalyst for the development of adventurous and imaginative ideas by supporting artists who pursue innovation in form and/or content in the performing and visual arts, film and video, and in emerging fields. The organization makes a multi-year commitment of financial support and advisory services to its grantees. Creative Capital funds artist projects in four disciplines: visual arts (includes installation art, painting, fiber art, mixed media works, public art, etc.), film/video arts, performing arts (includes music, dance, theater, puppetry, performance art, etc.), and emerging art fields (includes all forms of digital work, and innovative literature). Projects that transcend traditional discipline boundaries are highly encouraged. Creative Capital operates on a two-year grant cycle, funding alternative disciplines each year. The first year of each cycle, we issue grants in visual and film/video arts; the second year, performing and emerging arts. Grant Types: General Operating Support, Special Projects, General Support and Project Grants to Individuals for Artwork.

Application Deadline: Visit website.

CDA-Projects - Grant for Artistic Research and Production

CDA Projects is a commercial gallery in Istanbul, which represents established and emerging contemporary artists from Turkey and abroad. The grant aims at supporting and opening up the discussions on artistic research to an expanded network through an open call. It encourages innovative approaches to how discourse is staged and how knowledge is produced, rethought and interwoven across disciplines. Without any limitations on the content, the proposed inquiries are expected to suggest new forms and methodologies, by reflecting on contexts and conditions of the knowledge produced.

Application Deadline: Visit website.

Elizabeth Foundation for the Arts

EFA is dedicated to providing artists across all disciplines with space, tools and a cooperative forum for the development of individual practice. They are a catalyst for cultural growth, stimulating new interactions between artists, creative communities, and the public.

Website: <http://www.efanyc.org/>

Elizabeth Greenshields Foundation

The purpose of the Foundation is to aid artists in the early stages of their careers. Awards are limited to candidates working in the following: painting, drawing, printmaking, and sculpture. Work must be representational. There is no age limit. The Charter of the Foundation precludes the consideration of non-objective art. Applicants must have started or completed art school training or must demonstrate, through past work and future plans, a commitment to making art a lifetime career.

Application Deadline: Available throughout the year.

Website: <http://www.elizabethgreenshieldsfoundation.org/main.html>

Adolph and Esther Gottlieb Foundation - Emergency Assistance Program

The Emergency Assistance Program is intended to provide interim financial assistance to qualified artists whose needs are the result of an unforeseen, catastrophic incident, and who lack the resources to meet that situation. Each grant is given as one-time assistance for a specific emergency, examples of which are fire, flood, or emergency medical need. To be eligible for this program, an artist must be able to demonstrate a minimum involvement of ten years in a mature phase of his or her work. Artists must work in the disciplines of painting, sculpture or printmaking.

Application Deadline: Available throughout the year.

Website: <http://www.gottliebfoundation.org/>

Emergency Grants, Change Inc.

Grants are a one-time $1,000 given to US-based professional visual artists in need of emergency aid to avoid eviction or to pay for medical expenses, utility bills, or another emergency the organization's board deems worthy. Applicants must demonstrate sufficient need.

Application Deadline: Available throughout the year.

The Artists' Fellowship, Inc.

The Artists' Fellowship, Inc. is a private, charitable foundation that assists professional fine artists (painters, graphic artists, sculptors) and their families in times of emergency, disability, or bereavement. Assistance is given without expectation of repayment. One does not need to be a Member of the Fellowship to receive assistance; neither does membership in the Artists' Fellowship entitle one to assistance from the foundation. The Artists' Fellowship cannot aid every artist who applies, nor does it award scholarship funds or "fellowships" for study, schooling, or travel.

Application Deadline: Available throughout the year.

Website: <http://artistsfellowship.org/home.html>

Ford Foundation

Most of the foundation's grant funds are given to organizations. Although it also makes grants to individuals, they are few in number relative to demand and are limited to research, training and other activities related to its program interests. The foundation does not award undergraduate scholarships or make grants for purely personal needs. Support for graduate fellowships is generally provided through grants to universities and other organizations, which are responsible for the selection of recipients. Most foundation grants to individuals are awarded either through publicly announced competitions or on the basis of nominations from universities and other nonprofit institutions. In all cases, recipients are selected on the merits of their proposals and on their potential contribution to advancing the foundation's program objectives. The Foundation does give scholarships, but generally through other organizations. The Foundation sponsors three graduate diversity fellowship programs---pre-doctoral, dissertation, and postdoctoral---through the National Research Council.

Application Deadline: Visit website.

The Jerome Foundation

The Jerome Foundation operates a grant program for individual media artists who reside within the five boroughs of New York City. This program does not support commercial, industrial, or strictly educational work. Full-time students are not eligible to apply. This program awards production grants to emerging artists who make creative use of their respective media. The Foundation supports artists whose work shows promise of excellence. These artists will most often be in the early stages of their careers and will not have had the support needed to achieve major recognition for their work. However, it is important to note that this program is not designed for students or people with little to no background as principal creators in media arts. Factors used to assess whether or not an applicant is emerging include production record/history, exhibition record, awards, grants, peer recognition, career stage, and critical response to the work.

Application Deadline: Available throughout the year.

Website: <http://www.jeromefdn.org/apply/start>

LEF Foundation – New England

The goal of LEF New England is to fund the work of independent documentary film and video artists in the region, and to broaden recognition and support for their work, both locally and nationally. It also supports programs that highlight the rich history and ongoing legacy of innovation within New England's independent film community. LEF New England launched the Moving Image Fund (MIF) in 2002 to support new film and video work. The Moving Image Fund provides funding across all phases of production, supporting films from the early risk-taking stage, through a film's completion. In this way, MIF offers a continuum of support for selected projects, while also identifying new talent. The overarching goal of LEF New England's philanthropic investment is to help build a sustainable and strong community of support for artists and their work. LEF Foundation now only operates in New England. After 25 years of open review funding, LEF California will no longer be accepting uninvited proposals. The Board of Directors will only be funding proactively for the time being.

The MAK Center

The MAK Center for Art and Architecture has been focusing on innovations in art and architecture, supporting new tendencies and interdisciplinary developments that pursue spatial and conceptual experimental approaches. The radical oeuvre of the Austrian-American architect Rudolf M. Schindler, who worked in L. A. from 1920 until his death, exemplifies the relationship between art and architecture, which provides the guideline for the initiative. In addition to exhibitions, MAK talks, symposia and lectures at the Schindler House, the Artists and Architects in Residence Program at Schindler's Pearl M. Mackey Apartment House is an integral part of the activities. The MAK Center is run under the direction of the MAK in cooperation with the Austrian Federal Ministry of Education and Cultural Affairs, the Austrian Federal Chancellery's Department of the Arts and the "Friends of the Schindler House" based in Los Angeles.

Pollock-Krasner Grant, Pollock-Krasner Foundation

The Pollock-Krasner Foundation's dual criteria for grants are recognizable artistic merit and demonstrable financial need, whether professional, personal or both. The Foundation's mission is to aid, internationally, those individuals who have worked as professional artists over a significant period of time. The Foundation welcomes, throughout the year, applications from visual artists who are painters, sculptors and artists who work on paper, including printmakers. The Foundation encourages applications from artists who have genuine financial needs that are not necessarily catastrophic. Grants are intended for a one-year period of time. The size and length of the grant is determined by the individual circumstances of the artist.

Application Deadline: Available throughout the year.

The Paul Robeson Fund for Independent Media

(We are not currently accepting Letters of Inquiry and have no current grants deadlines)

The Paul Robeson Fund for Independent Media is the only ongoing source of funding committed exclusively to the support of social issues media. The Fund supports media activism and grassroots organizing by funding the pre-production and distribution of social issue film and video projects, and the production and distribution of radio projects made by individual media producers, as well as local, state, national, or international organizations. The primary purpose of the Fund is to support independent media productions that are politically and artistically compelling, but can also be used for progressive activism and organizing. The Fund considers the distribution of a film, video, or radio production as important as the project itself. Individual media producers must have fiscal sponsorship via a tax-exempt, nonprofit organization.

The MAK Center

The MAK Center for Art and Architecture has been focusing on innovations in art and architecture, supporting new tendencies and interdisciplinary developments that pursue spatial and conceptual experimental approaches. The radical oeuvre of the Austrian-American architect Rudolf M. Schindler, who worked in L. A. from 1920 until his death, exemplifies the relationship between art and architecture, which provides the guideline for the initiative. In addition to exhibitions, MAK talks, symposia and lectures at the Schindler House, the Artists and Architects in Residence Program at Schindler's Pearl M. Mackey Apartment House is an integral part of the activities. The MAK Center is run under the direction of the MAK in cooperation with the Austrian Federal Ministry of Education and Cultural Affairs, the Austrian Federal Chancellery's Department of the Arts and the "Friends of the Schindler House" based in Los Angeles. See web site for details:

Graduate Manufacturing Internship Program for Engineering Students

Sponsored by New Process Gear (a division of New Venture Gear Corporation), a world class manufacturer of transmissions, transaxles, and overdrive units, this program provides students with full remitted tuition for both regular and summer sessions; a monthly stipend of $1,000; one-on-one contact with faculty; and manufacturing experiences not encountered in the classroom. In return, students spend more than twenty hours per week at New Process Gears Syracuse-area plant where they serve as project leaders and facilitate efforts to improve quality, scrap rates, setup times, inventory levels, and other performance indexes.

For more information contact: Professor Alex Friedman at 315-443-3419 or Professor Fred Easton at 315-443-3463 at Syracuse

IBM PhD Fellowship

The IBM Ph.D. Fellowship Awards is an intensely competitive program which honors exceptional Ph.D. students in many academic disciplines and areas of study, for example: computer science and engineering, electrical and mechanical engineering, physical sciences (including chemistry, material sciences, and physics), mathematical sciences (including optimization), business sciences (including financial services, communication, and learning/knowledge), and service sciences, management, and engineering.

Students must be nominated by a faculty member. They must be enrolled full-time in a college or university Ph.D. program, and they must have completed at least one year of study in their doctoral program at the time of their nomination. Students from U.S. embargoed and terrorist countries are not eligible for the program.
